

Please join us on this lovely trip to Kentucky. Please make your reservations soon. We have a block of 25 rooms at the Comfort Inn. I checked out the rooms myself & they are newly renovated. All the rooms are suites. We are staying about as close to the convention site as you can get. The closest hotel to the convention is the Crown Plaza and it is sold out. We will be five minutes from dancing.

TRAVEL WITH DOT & DON COY TO THE LOUISVILLE SQUARE DANCE CONVENTION

Monday, June 21 – Monday, June 28, 2010

Monday, June 21

We leave Brooklyn, New York & New Jersey and begin our drive west to Zanesville, Ohio where we have overnight accommodations and dinner.

Tuesday, June 22

After breakfast this morning, we check out of our hotel and drive to Bardstown, KY. We'll visit the Jim Beam Distillery and learn of the history and distilling process of bourbon. We'll also see the Oscar Getz Museum of Whiskey History with its 60-gallon copper still made in 1787 and an 1854 E.C. Booz bottle, the brand from which the word "booze" originated. Dinner and accommodations are in Bardstown tonight.

Wednesday, June 23

Breakfast begins our day. A visit to My Old Kentucky Home State Park is on our agenda this morning. It is believed that Stephen Foster wrote "My Old Kentucky Home" here in 1852. We then drive to Louisville and see Churchill Downs, the Kentucky Derby Museum, Colonel Sanders Museum, and the Old Palace Theater. Dinner is on our own tonight.

Thursday, June 24 – Saturday, June 26

Enjoy the Louisville Square Dance Convention.

Sunday, June 27

We'll check out of our hotel this morning and visit the Louisville Slugger Museum & Factory. Our drive continues to Wheeling, West Virginia where we have dinner and overnight accommodations.

Monday, June 28

This final day of our tour begins with a hearty breakfast. We then check out of our hotel and begin our pleasant journey home.
